Trace Skin Care

Tracey Robinson APN, WHNP-BC is celebrating the 10th anniversary of Trace Skin Care this year. Trace is a boutique, patient-centered practice located in the heart of Green Hills, offering personal, non-surgical skin solutions. Tracey feels fortunate to have made a slight career change after dipping her toe in the world of medical aesthetics while living in New York City from 2001-2004. With her holistic approach as a Certified Women's Health Advanced Practice Nurse, she brings a unique mix of top-flight education, real-world training, and hands-on experience to a growing list of discriminating clients.

Tracey is a mother of three beautiful children ranging in age from 4 to 14 years old. She understands the demands of being a parent and having a career. Most of her clients fall into one or both circles, and she enjoys the intimacy of knowing her client's rituals. Understanding the client's daily life and beliefs is of upmost importance in choosing between laser, chemical peels, and injections. Tracey feels this aids in her ability to create a personalized plan of care both in office with treatments and at home with a skin care regime that ensures optimal results.
